Dr. Isaac Kay's Reminiscences.

We see from the Eaton Register that Dr. Is at Key, of this city, has commenced a me see of sketches, to be published in that nest, bright and lively sheet, wherein thus ta he graphically portrays early life and ac nes in Preble county, Onio. The doctor : family settled in that county in 1837, when he was only ten years old, but he seems to e remembered enough of the imm diately so ceeding four or five years to write up several quite readable chapters of local remin sections pertaining to that period, and judging from the articles which have already speered, they will doubtless all be of interee and amusement especially to the citizens of that portion of Cuio. Dr. Kay is a genth man of studious, scholarly habits, and of go serous culture. The following paragraphs on his first letter will be of local interest

When on the 1sth of May, 1853, I changed my location, for the practice of medicine from Lewisburg, O., to Springfield, I found or ly one citizen here who had ever lived in Proble county. Since that time I have been at is to count them by the down. The sole ex eprion, just a laded to, was Dr. A. A. B unt a relative of the well known John Momma, Eq. He was a prominent dentist here, who although a native of this city, had be n a resident of Preple county during the ye irs 1840 and '42. Dr. Hount was quite acto applished in his profession, but he has been, or the last ten years practicing dentistry in G neva, Switzerland.

Of the many former citizens of Preble ecuaty, now living here, a goodly proportion came from West Alexandria. Among these may be mentioned John P. Winters, the pubcame from West Alexandria lisher-the goungest brother of Jacob Wit ters, the old pioneer tavern keeper at West Alexandria; and his wife, a daughter of William Alexander, originally of Virginia, la er of Pennsylvania, but who finally, during the first decade of the present century, removed to Ohio, and became the proprie-tor and founder of the beautiful village. which, as we all known, was named sher him. His house was a primitive cabin, the first of many like it that followed, and was jotted down in the midst of a wilderness. Mrs. Winters is also a sister of Perry Alexander. and Hon. Beniah Alexander, long since deceased, and once a talented representative from Prelife county to the Obio legislature.

Mother Alexander, the very aged widow of
William the pioneer, was on a visit to Spring-field not long before her death, at which time it was my privilege and pleasure to ob-tal: from her many rare and interesting bits
